SUMMERLIN INSTITUTE WINS STATE BASEBALL CHAMPIONSHIP; DEFEATS INVERNESS IN FINAL OF TOURNEY

Dean Sets Enviably Record During Tournament—Banquet a Feature

For the second time in three years the Summerlin Institute (Bartow High school) baseball club is the state champion team in interscholastic circles.

This team defeated the Inverness high school team 5 to 2 in the final game on last Saturday. Dean, for Bartow, hurled tight ball in the pinches and his team gave him the best of support. They also showed their ability to take advantage of the breaks of the game and came back in the sixth scoring five runs after Inverness had counted twice during their half.

Dean hung up a fine record for the entire tournament. He pitched his team to three successive wins in as many days and in doing it allowed but four runs and sixteen hits, struck out twenty men, walked one and hit two and had seven assists afield to his credit. This record would be a credit to any pitcher.

Boswell, the Inverness twirler, was "arsenic" except in the sixth. During the game he struck out thirteen men, equaling the series record set by himself in the Inverness-Bradentown game Friday morning. In the fourth with one down, and that a strikeout, he allowed Bartow three singles and then tightened down and struck out two men, Lewis and Davis, leaders of the championship batting crew. Had the Inverness team shown better fielding the game would have been a pitchers' duel.

The work of the officials, especially of the chief umpire, Baxter, and his assistant, Badingfield, was all that could be desired.

The meet, thanks to the work of these two men and to the activity of Ray Green, the genial director of the affair, was the best of the three staged, those who watched the previous meets will agree.

Banquet a Feature

The banquet given at the San Juan hotel Saturday night in honor of the championship team was a feature of the tournament. Appreciation of Ray Green's activities and the capability of the individual members of the winning team was the key-note of the few short after-dinner speeches made by James White, athletic director of the University of Florida; A. W. Conner, principal of Summerlin Institute, and Al Douglas, president of the local Florida league club and chairman of the Orlando tournament committee. Other guests at the banquet were, Walter C. Lynch, assistant sports editor of the Florida Times-Union; John "Red" Davis of the Lakeland Star-Telegram, and H. W. Cuffel of the Orlando Reporter-Star.

Mr. A. R. Douglas, chairman of the committee, presented the trophy, the

YM SPEAKERS GO TO KISSIMMEE SUNDAY

Will Hold Evening Service in Presbyterian Church

The Y. M. C. A. cabinet will take over the services at the First Presbyterian church at Kissimmee next Sunday. Rev. W. H. Dresch, pastor of the church, is in Grand Rapids representing the Florida Presbyterians at the annual conference.

There will be several speeches. The main address will be given by Robert Donaldson, the retiring president of the Y.M., and John Scott, the new president. The secretary and other officers will also be heard from. A good musical program is being worked up. It will probably consist of the following: Selection by the orchestra; solo by Philip Reece; male quartette, composed of Cotton Thomas first tenor, Curtis Atkisson second tenor, Ken Warner first bass, Homer Parker second bass.

During the past year the Y.M. has done quite a lot of work of this kind. Among the places visited were Mt. Dora, Apopka and Orlando. They have also held services in the Winter Park churches. Next year it is the plan to go into this work much more extensively and a greater number of men will have the chance to appear in public. Most of the speaking this year has been done by the Seniors, because of the fact that they are graduating and the public speaking experience

MISS EDWARDS OFFERS PRIZES FOR ESSAYS

In order to stimulate writing for The Sandspur, and at the same time to hold up before the students of Rollins and prospective students from Florida high schools the advantages of Rollins college, Miss Grace Edwards offers through the Alumni Council two prizes, a first prize of $10 and a second prize of $5 for the best essays of not more than 1,000 words, on the subject: "Why Go to Rollins?" Essays should be submitted to the Editor of The Sandspur.

Prof. Dresch Leaves To Attend Convention At Grand Rapids, Mich.

GONE UNTIL JUNE 2

Representing the Florida Presbyterian Churches at Union Meeting

Prof. Dresch left for Grand Rapids last Monday morning, where he will represent the Presbyterian Churches of Florida. It is an honor for a man to be elected to that position and Rollins should be proud to have a man of such influence and ability on her faculty.

Prof. Dresch will visit his home town when he arrives in Chicago, where he will spend several days visiting friends. He will also spend a few days in Cincinnati. He will return in time to give his final examinations which are scheduled to start on the first.

Election of Student Association Officers Slated For May 29

Date Definitely Set at Meeting Held on Last Thursday

At a stormy session of the student association the election of officers was definitely set for Thursday, May 29. The officers to be elected are, a president, from the men students; a vice president, from the women students, and a secretary-treasurer of either sex. The regular time for this election is the first Thursday in May but for various reasons it was not held then. It has always been the custom to elect the new officers before the end of the year, in order to have someone who can take hold of the student affairs at the outset of the college year. In this way the election of someone who has been here at least a year is made certain. The officers of the student association compose the governing part of the student council and control student business.

Exams Finish Wednesday, Reason for Change; Register Now for '24-'25

It was announced yesterday that the date for the commencement exercises had been set up a day. It was formerly scheduled for June fifth but the change was made because it was found that examinations would be finished on Wednesday, June 4, and it was deemed unnecessary to keep the students here an extra day, in order to be present at the exercises. Exams begin today and will end on Wednesday, June fourth, and the commencement exercises will be held that evening.

An interesting program is being prepared and will be announced in the next issue. It is not known at the time of writing who the principal speaker will be. The exercises were held on the campus last year and will probably be held there this year.

The Seniors, who had an eventful week-end at Indian Rocks, are back at work again and will no doubt be uneasy until they get their hands on their diplomas. Some fifteen graduate

DELEGATES ATTEND YMCA CONVENTION

State Meeting Held in Daytona Last Week-end; Officers Elected

The Florida State Young Men's Christian Association held their annual convention at Daytona Beach last week-end. The meetings were held at one of the hotels on the beach. Representatives were present from most of the Y.M. organizations in the state. The program of the convention consisted of morning and evening sessions. The afternoon and evenings were for the most part taken up by the entertainment which the Daytona Y.M. provided. A theatre party featured and frequent dips in the ocean served to keep the delegates cool.

Mr. Jackson and Mr. Weaver devoted most of their time to the formulation of a plan for the coming year. The plan as stated in brief by Mr. Weaver is as follows: To establish an association among the high school associations of the Y. M. and to have the first annual convention at Winter Park in the fall. Mr. Jackson is the retiring secretary. Mr. Reynolds was elected the new state secretary.

Rollins was represented at the conference by Mr. Weaver, the secretary of the Rollins Y.M. Mr. Scott, the president-elect, and Mr. Allen Bartlett, chairman of the committee. It is not known where the next annual convention will be held. Mr. Weaver stated that the plans which he and Mr.

WHY GO TO ROLLINS?

That is the subject for essays for which Miss Grace Edwards offers two prizes. Why not get busy and win them? If you go to Rollins, why do you go? You must have a good reason for going or it stands to reason that you wouldn't go. These prizes have been offered not only to stimulate writings and essays but to hold up before the students of Rollins and prospective students the natural advantages of the college. To show prospective students who have not decided where to go why they should go to Rollins. We all know that Rollins possesses natural advantages which no other college in the country can boast of, so why not bring them before the great number of students graduating this year from high schools? Essays should not be more than one thousand words and should contain some interesting material.

INTRA-MURAL ATHLETICS

Many institutions have adopted a system of intra-mural athletics, a system which places the emphasis upon the physical development of the mass of students instead of a few and select group of individuals. This system has met with its greatest success in institutions where inter-collegiate have been continued and given proper recognition. But at the same time the emphasis has been placed upon the physical development of the majority of the students.

Rollins is at the beginning of a new era, an era which we hope will witness an unprecedented growth in the student body. The physical development of these students must be taken care of. The college will not have filled its duty by simply providing classroom instruction for them. The physical side of their being must be looked after also. For, what is an education worth unless it is coupled with a sound body?

With the present system as far as it goes, one can find no fault. Inter-collegiate athletics should be encouraged and given proper recognition. But the vast majority of the students in the college of today are obtaining a one-sided education—their intellect is being developed and their physical being neglected.

The beginning of the next school year which we hope will see two hundred freshmen on the campus should also witness the inauguration of a well-developed system of intra-mural athletics. For only by this means can the student obtain a well balanced education.

A WORD TO THE WISE

Educators will never cease to discuss the subject which has been termed "the diabolical idiocy of final examinations." Whether or not final examinations should be abolished and in their stead a new system inaugurated is a question too lengthy for discussion in the editorial column of an undergraduate newspaper, and especially by student editors who are naturally prejudiced in their views. However, just as long as a system of examinations is continued, just so long will the average student in American colleges and universities abide by the final exam habit, which may be expressed by "Never mind if you are down in your work—the final will save you."

If the present system of final examinations is an evil, it is an evil which exists in most colleges in the country and is a condition which is far remote from the humble powers of the student body to decree against. Time is too short to grieve now over what cannot be protested against—a system which encourages the postponement of work. Rather must we bear the burden and in the remaining weeks apply our faculties to their fullest extent in connecting the details of lectures. Work in time means a ninety, but concentrated effort in a week may mean a change from a failure to a seventy.

REGISTER NOW FOR '24-'25

The official school year will be over on the fifth and not on the sixth as was previously planned. The students are given a chance to register before leaving this year so that there will be no delay in getting started next year. A full day is usually devoted to registration of students, many of whom could register now and thus save time next year. It is the plan of the college to do this in the future and eliminate all except new students' registrations at the beginning of the school term.

Many of the students plan to leave on the night of June third following the commencement exercises and the remainder will leave on the fourth. A representative of the Atlantic Coast Line was in the college office for two days to enable the students to make reservations for going north. These reservations may be made at the station now. It is advised that this be done as soon as possible, as they are scarce and the late ones may be forced to ride the day coaches.

Other editors say:

SUMMER SCHOOL FOR YOUR CONVENIENCE

"Never neglect your activities for student work," is a slogan which many of us secretly adopt.

Perhaps that's just a little strong for a statement of fact, but it indicates a tendency that is undoubtedly prevalent. The activities in college are high and someone has to carry on. The chief difficulty comes in one or two or three trying to carry the burden of the load. There are many splendid examples of a combination of excellent student work and commendable service to the college in student offices. But the rank and file of us are inclined to let either the student work or the activity suffer; in the words of the poet, "when love and duty clash, let duty go to smash." we choose student affairs as our first love.

The affairs of the college have to be carried on, and despite discussion on the merits and demerits of the complex college organizations, they are in our midst. The question is, shall we carry a light student schedule and do justice to all our interests, or shall we endanger our health by an overload of both? If the former course is followed, a fifth year at college is necessitated, with attendant expense and seeming waste of time

As a solution to the problems comes the Summer Session at the State College. Nine weeks during the summer earns credits equivalent to half a semester during the college year, according to Dean A. A. Cleveland, who is also director of the Summer Session. The classes meet every day, the fewer number of subjects simplifies by half the life the student leads during the regular year. Daily assemblages bring to the student body many delightful entertainers, interesting and instructive speakers. Social life is a prominent feature of the nine weeks stay. In a word, you can make up for your year's load of activities while recuperating from the strenuous existence.—Daily Iowan.

Dr. Sprague claims that Mrs. Sprague holds the world's championship for concentrated packing. She has an original system of tying all stockings and pajamas into a mass of knots, thus economizing on space.

Eva, T. P. and Marcia are still crowing over the fact that they were the only Seniors up for Chapel Monday morning.

SENIOR HOUSE PARTY

At one o'clock Friday four carloads of the mighty Seniors set out for the McKay cottage at Indian Rocks, for their long anticipated week-end. After various adventures and many stops on the way the whole party finally assembled for supper. The faculty came in last of all but for once, their classes waited more than the usual 4 1-2 minutes for them! In spite of the Cuban Sandwiches consumed in Tampa, everyone was ravenously hungry, and the table, heaped with wonderful food, was soon looking rather bare. After supper, the party broke up—some went upstairs and danced, others went out on the beach to sit, walk or swim in the moonlight. What time everyone went to bed is not open for publication! At five the next morning the "Eight Fishing Fools" piled out, took a dip, ate a hasty breakfast, met Augos (the best fisherman in seven counties) at the bridge, and started up the bay in the trusty "Pompano." Dr. and Mrs. Sprague, Mrs. Mitchell, Helen, Dolly, T. P., Rex, and Tommy, made up the crew. They came in at two p. m. with 200 fish including grunts, grouper, blackfish, sailors choice, pig fish and sharks. and this is no fish story, even if the Dean did lasso a two pounder! After another dip in the gulf, Tommy took a car load to St. Pete to give the town the once over. Needless to say, not a square inch was missed. Lillian took another bunch to Clearwater, while the rest stayed home to sing. Mrs. Sprague made some wonderful fish chowder for supper out of the day's catch. That night the usual dancing and swimming, filled the evening, and again the hour of retiring is a deep mystery. Ping-pong was the main attraction Sunday although swimming was not neglected. Dr. Sprague and Lillian Starbird each conducted a tour to St. Pete, and after supper everyone began to think of home. Scandal—the Faculty raced Tommy home, and beat him. Sleepy seniors streamed in between 2 and 4 a. m. Monday morning, after voting the week-end the very best they had ever had.

CHARMING STUDENT RECITAL

An exceptionally good musical program was held last Monday night in Knowles Hall. Ruth Amy, soprano, accompanied by Virginia Richardson, gave her Junior recital for graduation. Her voice was more lovely than ever and each note was as clear as a bell. Philip Reese, baritone also sang. His voice is very sweet and he was the recipient of much applause. Charlotte Wettstein, pianist, played several numbers. Her technique is wonderful and she proved to be as able an artist on the piano as in her readings. Both the young ladies received beautiful flowers during the program.

The next two recitals will take place on the following dates—on May 23, at 8:15, the program will consist of Marcia Converse, pianist, Dorothy Cole, violinist, and Fern Dakin, soprano. On May 26th at 5 o'clock, the program will consist of Edwina Parkinson, contralto, Hildegard Robinson, soprano, and Gretchen Harrell, pianist.

PHI ALPHA FRATERNITY
LEAVES ON HOUSE PARTY

Most of the members of Phi Alpha fraternity with an equal number of co-eds leave this afternoon for Daytona Beach where they will spend the week-end at the Barbe hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Podmore will chaperone the party.

A gay time is expected at the beach resort by those making the trip. Everybody in the party will return to Rollins Sunday night.

The Barbe hotel is located three blocks south of the Daytona pier on the ocean front.

DINNER PARTY FOR WEAVER

A charming dinner party was held in the dining room of the Hamilton hotel last Tuesday night in honor of Jimmie Weaver who left for Blue Ridge, N. C., last Wednesday night. From all reports it was a tremendous success since the Sandspur reporter was unable to pry the details from Sap Draa who was in attendance. Mr. Weaver left on the late train for the north. Hundreds of people were at the train to see him off.

SURPRISE PARTY
FOR EVA JONES

Marcia gave a farewell party for Eva Jones the Tuesday evening before Eva left for Cleveland that was a surprise to Eva. All the Phi Omegas arrived at 9.45 without Eva suspecting that a real party was at hand. Before she left Thursday she had a stack of train letters to shorten the trip.

A. P. E. ELECTS OFFICERS

The local chapter of Alpha Phi Epsilon, national honorary debating fraternity, elected officers for next year at the meeting Tuesday afternoon as follows: President, Walter B. Johnston; vice president, Fay Hall; secretary and treasurer, Herbert S. Mosher, Jr.,

Plans for debating on a large scale next year looking toward the development of a championship Rollins team were discussed by the fraternity. No announcement of this action can be announced at this time.

New members of Alpha Phi Epsilon can be announced next week.

PROF. TAINTOR SPEAKS AT GROVELAND

"Education consists not in crowding upon the student facts and information, but in disclosing to him something of his own possibilities so that he may be able some how to meet the widening fields of knowledge," Dr. J. F. Taintor said while delivering the commencement address to Groveland seniors Monday night under the auspices of the Rollins Alumni Lecture bureau.

"It is the business of the college, it is the purpose of education, to find the way, to let the 'imprisoned splendor' of the individual personality out into broadening fields for human advantage," he continued. "Increased knowledge brings with it new fields for man to enter. There are no closed doors, no blind alleys, no roads that come to an end in nature. The possibilities of the mind are commensurate with the limitless universe," he told his audience.

Waiter—"Yes, sir, that's it."

Diner—"Well, so it is! I thought it was a crack in the plate."

Inverness in Final of Tourney

Walter W. Rose cup. This gave Summerlin two legs on the trophy, which must be won three times, not necessarily consecutively. The only other team having any claim on the trophy is Williston, who won the tourney last year. The cup is a large silver one, surmounted by three bats which support a silver baseball. It is the property of Summerlin until next year.

The attendance at all the games was good, especially that of the final game, which some stated drew as large a crowd as any game played so far this season. The games were all examples of the best high school baseball in the South.

The summary of the tourney is as follows: Thursday P. M., Duval 1, Summerlin 8; Seabreeze 3, West Palm Beach 7.

Friday A. M.—Orlando 7, New Smyrna 5; Bradentown 2, Inverness 3.

Friday P. M. Semi-finals—Summerlin 7, W. P. B. 1; Orlando 2, Inverness 3.

Saturday P. M. Finals—Summerlin 5, Inverness 2.

COLLEGE COMMENT

Walter says he just loves to have Edna braid his hair!

Prof. Feuerstein was unanimously elected Champion Sandspur Dodger of the party!

Helen had to spank Elsie for stealing a banana, even though it hurt her worse than it did Elsie!

"Grub" Ingram left Friday for Jacksonville on business, returning on Sunday.

Madeline Leinard, Hildegard Robinson, Gretchen Harroll, Verdelle Crabb, Tommy Quinn, Cotton Thomas and Gomer Emery all motored to Haines City Sunday, where they spent the day.

Johnnie Bostwick, Ray Colado and Herb Mosher went on a fishing trip Sunday. Herb capped the climax by falling in and scaring all the fish away.

The B. O. M.'s certainly are stepping out. Their Tomokan page is all fixed up and wonderful plans for the future have been discussed.

The Tennis Tournament for mixed doubles is well on the way. Partners have been chosen and the dates set for the matches. Much excitement is being shown over the affair.

If anyone wants to kill some time in class, just ask the Dean about the fish he lassoed!

Or ask him about the dead shark that bit him.

Curt is a candidate for all spare sympathy on the campus. Has everyone noticed his painful limp? He held Lil' Frances on his lap all the way back from St. Pete.

Speaking of sharks, Dolly and Tommy wish it announced that they caught the two sharks that were the pride of the fishing expedition.

Casey Warner really is too vain. It does seem as though he didn't need to shave all the time.

The Senior Class wishes to disclaim all responsibility for Rex's black eye. He really is a bad advertisement for the Upper-class dignity!

Dolly is raising money for the Senior Class Treasury. She charges 5c a look at the sunburn on her back. Right this way, gents!

On Friday afternoon, the Dinky Flier was flagged at the College Station and Beryl Bowman, Catherine Young and Rhoda McCall boarded, en route to Oveido.

The Seniors seem to have had a very enjoyable time at Indian Rocks. They returned with sunburns and a longing for sleep. It is rumored that they all went fishing, too. Wonder if they caught anything?

Jerry, Ethel, Louise, Pearl and Aline all left Thursday for Jerry's home in Monticello. They returned Sunday and reported a wonderful time.

Saturday morning Dora Gaston, Sylvia and Hilda and Bob Gaston motored to Oveido where they spent the day.

The boys have been frequenting Palm Springs quite a lot lately. The water is much cooler than the lake water.

Merle Weaver left Wednesday night for Blue Ridge, N. C., where he will be stationed all summer.

Margaret had her usual difficulties with Ken, keeping him out of the refrigerator and away from the pantry.

Cloverleaf was a dismal place over the week-end. Only eighteen girls were in the dormitory. This shows that everyone is getting restless and anxious for school to finish.

AMERICA AND DIAMONDS

The National City Bank of New York discloses the somewhat appalling truth that about half the world's present supply of diamonds is now held in the United States. In the last fifty years we have spent approximately $2,000,000,000 in the acquisition of these trifles, but since the war we have been importing them at the astounding rate of $50,000,000 to $100,000,000 worth a year, and it appears that only a simultaneous exhaustion of both Kimberley and European crown jewel supplies will check the influx.

Already about one-half of the world's $9,000,000,000 worth of monetary gold has been amassed in our vaults. Precious stones are not currency, but they can perform an approximately similar function in international exchange, and we appear to be withdrawing this last form of portable real wealth from Europe as rapidly as we are reducing her gold. The more we have the more rapidly we accumulate, and while we are relieving the rest of the world of its cash, we are taking the jewelry as well.

The suggestion of highway robbery is too strong for European cartoonists to resist; but the melancholy truth is that we regret the situation fully as much as our apparent victims. But as a nation we are as powerless to do anything about it as they are.—New York Sun and Globe.

The Glee Club of the University of California will tour the principal cities of the United States, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Germany, and France during the summer.—Ex.

REWARD OF THE IMPRACTICAL

In the judgment of mankind, each individual automatically classifies as practical or impractical. If a man is practical, it is to his credit no matter whether he has accomplished anything or not. All he has to do to claim and receive the everlasting approbation of other men is to keep his visions, if he has any, to himself, and plug stolidly through the fortunes and misfortunes that befall him. If his utilitarian efforts have made him rich in the goods of this world, he is a man of men—one to be praised and emulated. But even though such has not been the case, and his honest but vain efforts have produced no results except added stoop to his shoulders and more gray hairs, still practical is the most praiseworthy of epithets.

So highly esteemed indeed is this matter of practicability that an impractical man ranks very low in the esteem of his fellow men. As soon as a man dare let the world know that he has ideas and dreams of things that are to come or ought to be—he is automatically dropped a few points on the human exchange. Because a man doesn't care for gold, or the squalid tenant farms, or the stuffy, clamoring work shops that other men appraise so highly, he is lowered in men's esteem. Because he doesn't want to cuff and be cuffed, and squirm and struggle, and fight throughout his life for these common prizes, he is looked down upon.

But withal that the stigma of the world is upon him, is not the impractical man the most logical man in the world? What have they gained, when they have struggled for a life time for their utilitarian desires. All their reward for their struggles is lost to them the moment they die. Their lands and gold are left to form the prize of another mass of fighting humanity. But the impractical man, he who has held himself aloof and dreamed and thought and planned alone, what has he to offer? Also nothing? Not if he has been able to weave his dreams into realities by the creation of a song, or a story, or of a dash of paint upon a canvas. When the name of the practical man is lost to the world, the name of the impractical man is just beginning to become familiar to the peoples who live after him. And long after the cherished goods of the practical man are scattered to the four winds by his practical descendants, the life work of the impractical man is the inspiration and ideal of men the world over.—Daily Iowan.

INTENTIONS WITHOUT RESULTS

Intentions are good but it is results that people want. No matter what you intend to do today or what you are planning to do tomorrow, unless you put your plans in action they will be worthless to you and to the world. The man who never gets anywhere is the man who is always going to do something but never finds time or allows something else to occupy his time to such an extent that he is diverted from his original plan. Some students come to school with the one aim to get an education, but many are those whose intentions are never put into action. They find too many attractions by the road side and too many diversions on the path of learning. Many men start out in the world to make good by fair means but the attractions of a crooked deal are too enticing and they turn from their original plan to one of a questionable nature. Young men and young women leave home resolving to follow the dictates of their parents and live up to the expectations of friends, but soon many of them find the bed too enticing on Sunday morning to leave it and go to church. But here is what we started out to say: some couples leave the Annex on Sunday night with the intention of going to church, but find the moonlight rides too enticing and never get to church. Now here is the little moral to our story: if your intentions are good carry them out, and if they are otherwise be wise enough to change them before it is too late.—Southwestern Univ.

What is the height of ignorance? Trying to start a cuckoo clock with birdseed.

Doctor: "Have you any organic troubles?"

Patient: "No, Doc, I can't even carry a tune."

Flapper (who wishes to buy some walnuts)—"Pardon me, but who waits on the nuts?"

If education makes a person refined why is a college course?

"Oh, shucks," cried Mabel, "I dropped my boudoir cap in my face powder. Mary turned over sleepily, and said, "When night-hood was in flour."

He—"Can we keep our engagement a secret?"

She—"Oh yes, all the girls have promised not to tell."

Last night I held a little hand,
So dainty and so neat
I thought my heart would burst with joy
So wildly did it beat—
No other hand unto my soul
Could greater solace bring
Than that I held last night, which was Four aces and a king. —Ex.

I enjoy visiting men of interest, said the student as he sneaked into the pawn shop.

Wifey—"John, wake up. What is that rasping noise downstairs?"

Hubby—"Probably the filing cabinet my dear."

Soph—"May I hold your hand?"

Co-ed—"Of course not! This isn't Palm Sunday."

Soph—"Well, it isn't Independence Day either."

An old lady was testifying at a church meeting. "I am so grateful that I have two teeth left," she said in listing her blessings, "and I am very thankful that they hit."

"Oh will you miss me?" warbled Speeder Carr, serenading beneath her window.

"Not if I can help it," muttered Dad as he took a windup with the water pitcher.

Reporter—"And what does Goldstein give as the cause of the accident?"

Doctor—"Search me—both arms are broken and he can't say a word."

A miss is as good as her style.
"Drowning my love," said the disappointed lover as he pushed his girl off the pier.

Little drops of whiskey,
Little nips of gin,
Make the strongest wonder
Where in hell they've been.

"Did you take your father apart and speak to him?"

"No, but he went all to pieces when I told him."

Scotty (to roommate struggling into a dress suit)—"Got a date?"

Jimmy S.—"Naw! I'm just trying to remember a keen cuss word I invented last time I put this—!—! thing on."

Al—"Where have you been?"

Jimmy—"Had a date."

Al—"With that dirty shirt?"

Jimmy—"No, with a girl."

She—"Oh, I just love mysterious men!"

"Mysterious men?"

She—"Yes, the kind that always keep you in the dark."

"What a splendid fit," said the tailor as they carried the epileptic out of his shop.

Old Lady—"You can't be so poor, my good man, if you wear spats."

Tramp—"Ma'am, dese is suede shoes wid de bottom worn off!"

Ray—"So she handed you the bull, did she?"

Johnny—"No, she just gave me a bum steer."

Herb—"I never saw such dreamy eyes."

Jerry—"You never stayed so late."

"I see that old Pete married an Albino."

"The poor devil never could resist a light love affair."

There was a young lady from Case,
A cellist of exquisite grace,
Who said "Though I go,
On occasion, quite low,
Still I won't be referred to as bass."

Sap—"Why do they call them Glee Clubs?"

Jimmy—"Because it's funny how some of the fellows get in."

The new boarder from the city was trying to conceal his ignorance of the farm. He spied a glass of honey at the breakfast table and in an attempt to show that he knew the ropes remarked in a very casual way, "Oh, I see you keep a bee."

"You make me tired," said the convict to the rock pile.

Saint Peter—"Have you ever been intoxicated, young man?"

Gob—"No, Saint Peter, I was in the navy."

"Yes, I've quit the hold-up game, I'll hang round joints no more,"
So with a sigh and a faint little cry,
The garter stretched out on the floor.

"Deacon Jones," said the parson, "will you lead us in prayer?"

As he received no response, he repeated, "Deacon Jones, will you lead?"

The deacon, roused from slumber, blurted out, "Lead yourself; I just dealt."

Rae More—"This coat is full of holes."

Pop—"Of course, it's a new species of lynx."

R. M.—"New species of lynx?"

Pop—"Yes, golf lynx."

Why Not Nice and Warm?

First Co-ed—"Where did you go after the dance last Friday?"

Second Ditto—"I went riding with Joe."

First Co-ed—"My! Weren't you cold?"

Second same—"Yes, good and cold."
